

True Potential Balanced Income Portfolio

Portfolio Objective

The objective of the True Potential Balanced Income Portfolio is to provide investors with a way to draw a secure, regular and growing income. The Portfolio offers exposure to a select group of investment partners and a range of risk profiles (Cautious and Balanced), whilst remaining within the Balanced risk profile. We review the Portfolio monthly and, if necessary, rebalance to the allocation of styles we believe offers the best potential for yield within the Balanced risk profile. The Portfolio aims to produce a higher than average yield, compared to an equally-weighted model of Cautious and Balanced income funds.

Risk Profile: Balanced

The Balanced Investor may be somewhat concerned with short-term losses and may shift to a more stable option in the event of significant losses. The safeties of investment and return are typically of equal importance to the Balanced Investor.

Investment Commentary

The True Potential Balanced Income Portfolio returned 1.9% over the month of April.

Global equities continued their upward trajectory having been galvanised further by the sustained market performance that began in January. Within this, European stocks were the standout performer as investors took advantage of favourable valuations. Within fixed interest, Global High Yield provided the best returns with investors' appetite shifting toward higher risk debt with US companies reporting robust earnings growth during the month. Emerging Markets were also strong with investor sentiment improving over the month.

Moving onto the individual funds, the True Potential Threadneedle Monthly Income and True Potential Goldman Sachs Income Builder funds were the best performers. Threadneedle benefited from their strong stock selection whilst Goldman Sachs income builder capitalised on their strong US stock selection.

Over the month no changes have been made to the True Potential Balanced Income Portfolio, with the portfolio fully optimised across all factors being cost, risk, long term expected return, risk-adjusted return and income.
