

True Potential Balanced Portfolio

Portfolio Objective

The objective of the True Potential Balanced Portfolio is to provide investors with a way to achieve their investment goals. The Portfolio offers full exposure to different manager styles within the Balanced risk profile. We review the Portfolio monthly and, if necessary, rebalance to the allocation of styles that we believe offers the best opportunity for growth within the Balanced risk profile. The Portfolio aims to produce a higher risk-adjusted outcome at a lower average cost, compared to an equally-weighted model of Balanced funds.

Risk Profile: Balanced

The Balanced Investor may be somewhat concerned with short-term losses and may shift to a more stable option in the event of significant losses. The safeties of investment and return are typically of equal importance to the Balanced Investor.

Investment Commentary

The True Potential Balanced Portfolio returned 1.7% over the month of April.

Global equities continued their upward trajectory having been galvanised further by the sustained market performance that began in January. Within this, European stocks were the standout performer as investors took advantage of favourable valuations. Within fixed interest, Global High Yield provided the best returns with investors' appetite shifting toward higher risk debt with US companies reporting robust earnings growth during the month. Emerging Markets were also strong with investor sentiment improving over the month.

Moving on to individual funds, the True Potential UBS Balanced and True Potential Allianz Balanced funds have been the best performers. UBS benefited significantly from their position as the largest holder of equities, specifically the US and Europe, both of which were amongst the top performing markets. A similar story resonates with Allianz who hold an overweight position to the US.

Over the month no changes have been made to the True Potential Balanced Portfolio, with the portfolio fully optimised across all factors being cost, risk, long term expected return and risk-adjusted return.
